We have made a sincere effort to select only the most conservative, " bibliocentric " commentaries. Beginning with Hebrews the central theological concern of the epistle emerges: the eternal spiritual priesthood assumed by Jesus through offering up Himself as the once-for-all sacrifice for sins.

He will judge us by what we have done and by what we accept about Jesus his Son. It They'd done well years ago, but the author of Hebrews feared that they might now turn away from Christ to avoid further persecution. They will go on to receive the many good things that come with their knowledge of Christ. Jesus is now our chief priest and he is far better than priests of the old law.

Matthew-61,Luke-55,John-His Title. I would simply point out to you what Don Curtis indicated to me: these warning texts are followed by words of assurance, rather than doubt.
