In Love and War I experienced a dichotomy of emotions: from extreme sadness to pure joy. The backdrop is vividly described In Love the lush farmlands giving way to devastation and at War as they near Hoppestadt, the trenches still visible and bringing a horrifying reality to the theatre of war, bodies still being recovered nearby, the vast graveyards shocking with their evidence of wasted lives, the visual reminders of the way deserters were dealt. Roger Ebert This message came to me from a reader named Peter Svensland.
