These elements, as gifts belonging to the Church of Christ, are forces impelling toward catholic unity. Fraternal life in common has special value in areas of the mission ad gentes because it shows the world, especially the non-Christian world, the "newness" of Christianity, that is, the charity which is capable of overcoming divisions created by race, colour, tribe. To Him all things are made subject until He subjects Himself and all created things to the Father that God may be all in all.

Consequently, any violence applied by such authorities in favor of contraception or, still worse, of sterilization and procured abortion, must be altogether condemned and forcefully rejected. Thus, religious communities, in the support they give to the perseverance of their members, also acquire the value of a sign of the abiding fidelity of God, and thus become a support to the faith and fidelity of Christians who are immersed in the events of this world, where the paths of fidelity seem to be less and less known. Thus the fundamental task of the family is to serve life, to actualize in history the original blessing of the Creator-that of transmitting by procreation the divine image from person to person.

O God, our times are in your hand: Look with favor, we pray, on your servant N. B. they are by reason of their particular vocation especially and professedly ordained to the sacred ministry.
