Welcome. In Heroes Die and Blade of Tyshalle, Matthew Stover created a new kind of fantasy novel, and a new kind of hero to go with it: Caine, a street thug turned superstar, battling in a future where reality shows take place in another dimension, on a world where magic exists and gods are up close and personal.

OnlyAnkhanaisn'tactuallyafictitiousworld,itreallyexistsinaparalle This is like blood, guts, broken bones, severed limbs, bring down the gaddamn world kind of love story. One more thing, I have a major pet peeve: present tense. Caine is badass. It'sanexampleofoldschoolwritingwhereinformationandmeaninghastobecan go anywhere you want, but you can't come HERE. Fucking great review.
