While women writers were few in numbers only some years ago, they are today responsible for a remarkable production of poetry and prose. Bain, Joseph.

In addition to the theological differences and political rivalry both in Europe and America. This applies to such pioneering works on the literalization of cultures as The Domestication of the Savage Mind by Jack Goody, The Consequences of Literacy by Jack Goody The Disappearance of Literature (Costerus NS 24) Ian Watt, The Gutenberg Galaxy and Understanding Media by Marshall McLuhan, or The Alphabetization of the Popular Mind by Ivan Illich and Barry Sanders, in which the protagonist is never conceived as an individual human being or an individual group but always as the entirety of a society, if not even of mankind. These narrative ballads flourished in the latter half of the nineteenth century and served an important informational function in the communities. Judi Hewitt, Editor.
